MyCash Reimbursement Account

Convenient access to your reimbursed funds

MyCash is an individual cash account that holds your reimbursement funds until you spend or move them.

How does MyCash work?

On those occasions when you submit an FSA-eligible reimbursement request, your reimbursed funds will be deposited directly into your MyCash account. Approved reimbursements are usually deposited within 24-48 hours. MyCash is connected to your Stanford FSA Card.

Once the funds are available—you choose how to use your MyCash funds. There are no restrictions on the type of expense for these funds. The reimbursed funds are your money and can be spent just like cash wherever major credit cards are accepted. The FSA Debit Card is smart enough to automatically recognize your purchases and use the correct account to pay for purchases. For example, if you are picking up a prescription and buying a greeting card, when you swipe your Stanford FSA Card it will use available FSA funds for the prescription and pay for the card with MyCash funds.

How do I access MyCash funds?

You have three ways to access your reimbursed funds:

1. Swipe your Stanford FSA Card at any merchant that accepts major credit cards.
2. Withdraw funds with your Stanford FSA Card at an ATM using a PIN. (Please note, ATM/bank fees may apply.)
3. Transfer funds to a personal bank account with Schedule a Transfer. (You can set this up as a recurring option.)

NOTE: All participants will receive reimbursement disbursements via MyCash unless you have already set up a direct deposit option for your reimbursements. You can choose to change your existing set up if you would prefer the flexibility of MyCash and its scheduling options.

How do I make changes to my MyCash account?

Simply log in to MyTASC using your username and password. On the home screen click Manage My Card.

This page is where you request a PIN for ATM transactions and set up (or change) your bank account information if you choose to have funds deposited to your bank account. You can also schedule deposits to transfer automatically.

What is the Schedule a Transfer option?

MyCash offers the flexibility to schedule when you would like MyCash reimbursement funds to be deposited to your bank account. For example, if you would like to have your MyCash balance deposited right before “Black Friday” shopping or before a college tuition payment, you can use the Scheduler option.

The Scheduler allows you to file your reimbursement requests throughout the year (instead of saving them all for December) and securely hold the funds until you wish to use them. You have the option to have one-time, recurring or automatic transfers.

NOTE: Reimbursed funds are available for immediate use via the MyCash swipe option.
